3-days training seminars “Advanced Displays”

For the first time in Europe, a training seminar on “advanced displays” is organised on a European scale in the frame of adria the advanced display research coordination action:

3 dates (2006)	1 seminar	3 countries
May, 9-11,	Pforzheim University,	Germany
June, 27-29,	Bletchley Park, Milton Keynes,	UK
November 14-16,	Bordeaux University,	France

About locations:

Pforzheim University, Pforzheim

Between Stuttgart and Karlsruhe, Pforzheim region has a high reputation in display metrology and both automotive and industrial based display systems regarding development and production. Deutsche Gesellschaft zur Förderung des Maschinenbaues (GzF) is the organizer of the German training seminar in Pforzheim.

Bletchley Park, Milton Keynes

Located 50 miles North-West of London, Bletchley Park is a historic place where is based the headquarters of the UK Display Network.

Université de Bordeaux, Domaine du Haut Carré, Talence

Beside famous Château Margaux vineyards, this “domaine” is an historic priory, where Bordeaux University has installed some new of its spin-off companies (www.u-bordeaux1.fr/SAIC).

Program

The training seminar is composed of three one-day sessions of three lectures each one, given by selected European experts, covering the following topics:

Day 1: displays based on phosphors excitation (CRT, PDP and FED (SED-CNT) panels).

- 9h00 – 10h30: Seeing displays, merits and shortcomings,
by Karlheinz BLANKENBACH, Pforzheim University
- 10h45 – 12h15: PDPs versus CRTs,
by Sebastien WEITBRUCH, Thomson Brandt
- 13h30 – 15h00: Future FED panels based on CNT electron sources, by Vu Thien BINH, Université Lyon 1
- 15h15 – 16h45: Q&A on “phosphor displays”, round table with all speakers, chairman : Karlheinz BLANKENBACH

Day 2: displays using light source spatial modulation, direct view LCDs and micro displays

- 9h00 – 10h30: Direct-view LCDs,
by Jose MAGARINO, Thales Avionics LCD
- 10h45 – 12h15: Micro-displays,
by André VAN CALSTER, Ghent University
- 13h30 – 15h00: Active Matrix technologies,
by Didier PRIBAT, CNRS/Ecole Polytechnique
- 15h15 – 16h45: Q&A on “LCDs”, round table with all speakers, chairman : TBD

Day 3: the organic route to low-cost & flexibility : OLED and large area “plastic” electronics.

- 9h00 – 10h30: Organic electroluminescent materials,
by Tom Mc LEAN, Merck Chemicals
- 10h45 – 12h15: Organic Light Emitting Displays and flexible displays,
by Christophe PRAT, Thomson
- 13h30 – 15h00: Electronics on plastic,
by Seamus BURNS, Plasticlogic
- 15h15 – 16h45: Q&A on “organic route”, round table with all speakers, chairman : Tom Mc LEAN

Each day program includes a time dedicated to “Questions & Answers” and open discussions driven by the chairman: trainees will have the opportunity to talk about their problematic about advanced displays and are likely to attend with prepared questions or problematic from their own experience. Answers will be commented by the team of speakers.
